GREENVALE.... Going Back to Our Origin

GREENVALE FARMS was originally founded in the 1950s when Harold's father, Gothold "Holdi" Reich, purchased a set of Angus Cows from his neighbor, Adam Scheirman. This Angus cow herd grew and was eventually expanded to include Charolais Cattle as well. The Reich's went on to show cattle throughout Canada and the USA.

Some highlights include the Angus bull Bandoliermere GV 13S and his progeny, who were very popular throughout Canada and the U.S., as well as Poker King Jr. GV 18G who went on to become N.W.S.S Grand Champion Charolais in Denver.

Harold took over the Purebred Angus cows in 1986 and began using the REICH prefix in 94. Kolton began using the KTHREE prefix when he started his own herd. This year, with the addition of the next generation we decided it was fitting to go back to our roots and tie things back into the GREENVALE name for continuity of the history of the cow herd for generations going forward. Still to this day every Angus cow in both herds trace back to the original herd started by Holdi back in the 50's.

• A breed cornerstone rich in the finest of Canadian breeding.

• Bandoliermere GV 13S was universally recognized as one of the very best of the numerous Canadian import sires brought into the United States in the late 1960s and early 1970s in the search for outcross genetics with added growth and power.

• History remembers him as follows: "Bandoliermere GV 13S is a bull of tremendous size, length, muscling and doability along with desired conformation. He is a big bull. He weighed 2,375 pounds as a mature four-year-old in pasture condition. This bull is marvelous in many ways. One is the structural correctness and good feet and legs that permit him to move better than most bulls, in spite of his nine years. He has serviced a herd naturally for the last seven years."

• The Canadian record of performance on Bandoliermere GV 13S reads: "Weaning index 115, yearling index 109, lifetime index 109, rank 1st out of 7. Yearling scores: freedom of waist 6, muscling 7, frame 8, structural soundness 6, breed and sex character 7."

• Bandoliermere GV 13S was bred in Gothold Reich's famous Green Vale herd from the highly-regarded Rose family developed by Gothold Reich and Adam Scheirman, legendary neighboring breeders, both from Bashaw, Alberta, Canada.

• Bandoliermere GV 13S was an intensely Bandolier-bred bull who traced multiple times to the legendary Earl Marshall, as well as Dalrene Eric Bardolier, one of the greatest bulls in early Western Canadian history.

• Bandoliermere GV 13S first rose to fame at the 1969 Calgary Bull Sale where his sons won the bull groups and included the Grand Champion Bull for Lawrence H. Stone & Son's Diamondhead Angus herd at Madden, Alberta, Canada. He then sold to other leading breeders across North America, where he was also used very successfully.

Same Sale, New Location

Welcome to the 2021 Bull Sale, the Sales 10th Anniversary!

The last year has been an interesting one, but if there is one thing that has remained constant, it is that agriculture is an important industry to the world and a great one to be apart of. We are fortunate to be able to live and work in an industry that continues to thrive throughout the challenges of the past year.

We would like to thank the Dennis Pugh and Joyce Vold at the Calnash Ag Event Centre for being great to work with over the years with the sale. Last fall, due to the unpredictability of the regulations regarding recreational facilities we made the decision to move the sale to the Stettler Auction Mart as a means of managing the risk and to fall within provincial operating regulations. Gary Rairdan runs a great crew and facility at S.A.M. and we are very excited to be working with them! Although the location has changed, we are still bringing the same quality program and animals sale day. We have been anticipating the 2021 sale since these bulls were wandering the pastures with their dams, the quality runs very deep from the top to the bottom of this sale group. We continue to push for consistency and I think that exemplifies itself when you analyze the different sire groups. There is maternal power, performance and predictability throughout the pedigrees of these bulls and their dams.

We will be hosting an open house weekend March 6th and 7th where you can analyze the bulls, visit, and get in an early dose of cinnamon buns and other treats and refreshments, but you are welcome to come tour the pens any time that suites you!

See you at the sale,

Harold and Dorothy,
Kolton, Bailey, and Rhett

Bull Development Program

We try to raise our cattle as close to the same conditions as the ranchers who are buying them because we want these cattle to work in real world ranch conditions. Our bulls spend their first summer roaming big pastures with their dams. Early in the winter they will come home where they continue to graze on grass and stubble regrowth as long as the weather permits. After weaning the bulls spend the winter together in large paddocks where they have plenty of room to move, exercise and grow. This first winter is a critical time period for the development of the bulls, their forage diet allows them to mature at their own individual rates which is important for the skeletal and structural development, as well as internal organ health of the animal. Once the ice clears the dugouts in the spring, the bulls are again be moved out to big pastures where they will graze left over grass from the previous season until their pastures green up for the summer. They will stay out in these big pastures until November when they will come home to begin getting ready for the sale. A few years ago, we began calculating the average daily gain while on pasture as yearlings, this year the bulls daily gain averaged 2.7 lbs/day over 190 days. The bull's diet will have consisted of only harvested forage and grass until they are eighteen months old when they come home for sale preparation. This development program is designed with the longevity of the animal in mind but it also allows us to decipher which genetics can maintain themselves in ranch conditions taking the guess work out of the equation for our customers, allowing them to buy with confidence.
